The climate crisis is the single biggest threat facing our planet and its people. The time for action is now.

The Green New Deal is a transformative plan for a just and equitable future. It would create millions of good jobs, transition the U.S. to a 100% clean energy economy, and ensure a just and equitable future for all Americans.

The Green New Deal is a bold and ambitious plan, but it is also necessary. The climate crisis is already having devastating impacts around the world, and these impacts are only going to get worse in the years to come.

The Green New Deal is our chance to avoid the worst impacts of the climate crisis and to create a better future for all. It is a plan that is rooted in justice and equity, and it is a plan that can create a more just and sustainable world for all.

## The Climate Crisis

The climate crisis is a global emergency. The planet is warming at an alarming rate, and the impacts are already being felt around the world.

- The average global temperature has increased by about 2 degrees Fahrenheit (1 degree Celsius) since the late 19th century.
- The sea level is rising, and the oceans are becoming more acidic.
- Extreme weather events, such as hurricanes, floods, and droughts, are becoming more frequent and more severe.

The climate crisis is a threat to our health, our economy, and our national security. It is also a threat to our planet and its people.

## The Green New Deal

The Green New Deal is a comprehensive plan to address the climate crisis and create a just and equitable future. The plan would:

- Create millions of good jobs
- Transition the U.S. to a 100% clean energy economy
- Invest in infrastructure, education, and healthcare
- Ensure a just and equitable future for all Americans

The Green New Deal is a bold and ambitious plan, but it is also necessary. The climate crisis is already having devastating impacts around the world, and these impacts are only going to get worse in the years to come.

The Green New Deal is our chance to avoid the worst impacts of the climate crisis and to create a better future for all. It is a plan that is rooted in justice and equity, and it is a plan that can create a more just and sustainable world for all.

## The Benefits of the Green New Deal

The Green New Deal would have a number of benefits, including:

- Create millions of good jobs
- Reduce air pollution and improve public health
- Transition the U.S. to a 100% clean energy economy
- Make the U.S. a leader in the global fight against climate change
- Ensure a just and equitable future for all Americans

The Green New Deal is a bold and ambitious plan, but it is also necessary. The climate crisis is already having devastating impacts around the world, and these impacts are only going to get worse in the years to come.

## How to Support the Green New Deal

There are a number of ways to support the Green New Deal, including:

- Contact your elected officials and tell them that you support the Green New Deal
- Join a local climate action group
- Educate yourself about the climate crisis and the Green New Deal
- Vote for candidates who support the Green New Deal

The Green New Deal is a bold and ambitious plan, but it is also necessary. The climate crisis is already having devastating impacts around the world, and these impacts are only going to get worse in the years to come.
