From Big Pharma to Big Food, from the medical establishment to the insurance industry, Smith reveals the truth about the corruption and greed that is making us sick and broke.

Smith's meticulously researched book is a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the real causes of our healthcare crisis and how to fight back.

Big Pharma: The Biggest Scam of All

Big Pharma is the most powerful industry in the world, and it's using its power to make us sick and broke.

Big Pharma spends billions of dollars every year on advertising and lobbying, creating a false sense of need for its products. It also uses its influence to block generic drugs and other affordable alternatives.

As a result, we're paying outrageous prices for drugs that often don't even work. And Big Pharma is making record profits while we suffer.

Big Food: Poisoning Us for Profit

Big Food is another major culprit in our healthcare crisis. The processed foods that Big Food companies produce are loaded with sugar, salt, and unhealthy fats. These foods are contributing to the obesity epidemic, heart disease, diabetes, and other chronic diseases.

Big Food companies know that their products are unhealthy, but they don't care. They're more interested in making money than in feeding us healthy food.

The Medical Establishment: More Interested in Profits Than Patients

The medical establishment is supposed to be there to help us stay healthy, but it's often more interested in profits than in patients.

Doctors are often pressured to prescribe unnecessary tests and procedures, which can drive up the cost of healthcare. Hospitals are often more interested in making money than in providing quality care.

As a result, we're paying more and more for healthcare, but we're not getting any healthier.

The Insurance Industry: Making Us Pay for Their Greed

The insurance industry is another major player in our healthcare crisis. Insurance companies are supposed to protect us from financial ruin in case of a medical emergency, but they're often more interested in making money than in helping people.

Insurance companies deny claims, raise premiums, and make it difficult for people to get the care they need. As a result, we're paying more and more for health insurance, but we're getting less and less in return.

Sickness Is the New Gold

The trillion-dollar scams that Smith exposes in his book are making us sick and broke. Sickness is the new gold, and the corporations that are profiting from our ill health are getting richer and richer.

We need to fight back. We need to demand affordable healthcare, healthy food, and a medical system that puts patients first. We need to hold the corporations that are making us sick and broke accountable.

John Smith's Trillion Dollar Scams: Sickness Is the New Gold is a powerful indictment of the corruption and greed that is destroying our healthcare system. It's a must-read for anyone who wants to understand the real causes of our healthcare crisis and how to fight back.
